

Médecins Sans Frontières / by Francesco Zizola

love

we can experience it we each know what we mean by it we mostly agree about its wonder but like time

    although it may be all around us may be what's intrinsic about us we don't really know what it is for some Love has no words others just four letters some say Love's a force others that it's a Garden even that Love is all there is in its throes or a moments bliss eternity

Love waits in the shadows pathways cross for respect / a word a touch of hand / or not love has no measure / asks nothing in return love does things never tried forgives mistakes / pardons hurt / absolves debt feeds shelters comforts encourages heals love brings us traces of the infinite

Buddhism maps the ways of Love for Judaism Love is Covenantal

Christianity says God is Love

Islam Allah filled with Love given Love overcomes every obstacle makes sense we think Love divine with Love

we can save the world together