

Image: askentomologists.com

Ontopoetics

ον. τοῦ. ποῦ'ετ. ιks ὄντος — (ontos) "being" or "that which is" ποίησις — (poiesis) "creation" or "bringing forth" what damselfly forget your fingers untangling her wings what spider not remember your daylight's rescue from the sink

No one is alone.