

NORA

Sometimes someone like you happens,
The pristine wished for cascading opens –
Forward moving bursting with energy,
Untamed springtime daybreak synergy.

You start things up forever beginning,
Turning losses into winning –
Intuiting answers hatching possibility,
Summer Magnolia capability.

No one ever going to keep you down,
Tomorrow morning gone any frown –
You're a fire can't be extinguished,
Enthusiastic willful nature distinguished.

Lots of occasions to prove yourself,
Bringing honesty from neglected shelf –
For forests shrinking oceans dying,
One and all are secretly crying.
