Lavender winds set the morning in motion,
Calling on chimes, redefining devotion –
Swaying trees, snowing cottonwood drifts,
Assisting damselflies in midair shifts.

Heart Changer, magical, unpredicted,
Sweet kindness, strength unexpected –
Through solitary and infinite you persist,
Down to Earth how meaning exists.

Bearing gifts, turning minds around,
Waking innocence sleeping underground –
Silver bangles, Tahitian pearls,
Moonstone ring, Garden whorls.

All know we're being destroyed by greed,
When a World of altruism is what we need –
Some believe we've hardly a prayer,
Yet here you are taking us there.
