

Wayne

On a snowy night mountain road,
Treachorous switchback episodes –
Quiet conversation, You at the wheel,
In the headlights, the scene surreal.

Narrow winding cliff's edge bends,
Could seem the storm's got no end –
Moon in Responsibility, Sun in Thought,
Never giving up on the Vision sought.

More than a literary evolution notch,
Not one to stand by and passively watch –
Stone walls, loose rocks, patterns past,
Heroes this Time the entire cast.

A failing Master Narrative is no small problem,
Curtain's up on its insufferable outcome –
Saturn says use all the Magic You've got,
Remind us the Lessons our best Stories taught.